					Recording is credited to the owner and sole perforated roll creator Len Luscombe and nom de plumes Dan Rawlings, Art Kaplan and Earl Lester. Songwriters are often not credited. Typographical errors were common. Mastertouch took over Broadway when Len Luscombe died in 1957.			The Mastertouch online catalogue is available as it existed when they ceased trading, with recording credits given to various artists. Laurel Pardey & Edith Pardey/Mum were top pianists. Powerhouse Museum in Sydney has the complete Mastertouch collection of roll recording machines, master rolls, etc. For further information visit the following link:  https://mastertouch.bookproduction.org/index.html
